Why do people leave?

The story behind our attrition numbers: who stayed, who left, and how people feel at work

Tap a card on the next slide to explore

Our story map

1
Meet our people
The big picture

2
Where goodbyes happen
By department

3
What they studied
By education field

4
Who is on the team
Age and gender

5
Who says goodbye
Leavers by age and gender

6
How happy are we
Job satisfaction

7
What it all means
Key takeaways

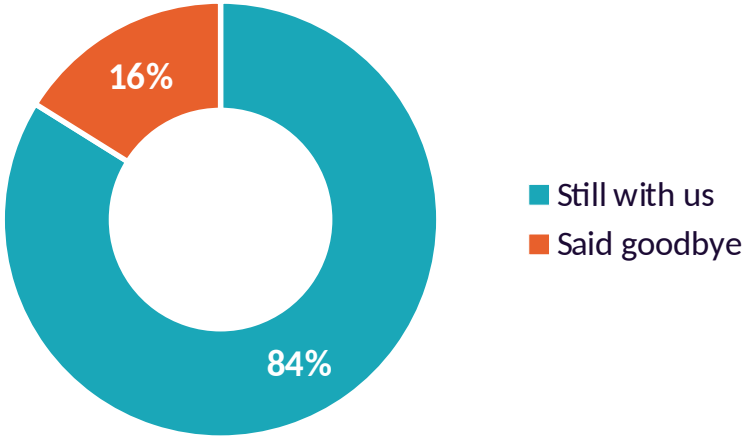

8
What we can do
Next steps

Every card is a link, and each slide has an Agenda button to bring you back

Meet our 1,470 people

Agenda

| 1,470 | 237 | 16.12% | 1,233 | 37 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| colleagues in total | have said goodbye | attrition rate | still with us | average age |

The big picture

About 1 in 6 colleagues has moved on, but more than 8 in 10 are still here: 1,233 people. With an average age of 37, this is a mid-career team with plenty of experience to keep.

Where do goodbyes happen?

Agenda

Colleagues who left, by department

133 people · 56.12%
R&D: more than half of all goodbyes

92 people · 38.82%
Sales: our second-biggest group

12 people · 5.06%
HR: the smallest share

R&D and Sales are about 95% of leavers. These are counts, not rates; department headcount isn't on the dashboard.

What did they study?

Agenda

64.1%
studied Life Sciences or Medical (152 people)

28.3%
Marketing or a Technical Degree (67)

7.6%
Other or Human Resources (18)

Who is on the team?

Agenda

72%
of us are aged 25 to 44 (1,059 of 1,470)

59.7%
are men in these bands (778 vs 526 women)

≈ 166
are under 25 or over 55 (1,470 – 1,304)

Who says goodbye?

Agenda

Panel 1

20 of 38
52.63% in the leading group

Panel 2

69 of 112
61.6% in the leading group

Panel 4

16 of 25
64% in the leading group

The gender mix of leavers shifts a lot with age: from 52.63% to 64% here, and down to 16.33% in another panel.

Every panel header reads "Under 25" in the screenshot, so the age band of each panel couldn't be confirmed; check in Power BI before presenting.

How happy are we?

Agenda

| Job role | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | Total |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Healthcare Representative | 26 | 19 | 43 | 43 | 131 |
| Human Resources | 10 | 16 | 13 | 13 | 52 |
| Laboratory Technician | 56 | 48 | 75 | 80 | 259 |
| Manager | 21 | 21 | 27 | 33 | 102 |
| Manufacturing Director | 26 | 32 | 49 | 38 | 145 |
| Research Director | 15 | 16 | 27 | 22 | 80 |
| Research Scientist | 54 | 53 | 90 | 95 | 292 |

Ratings: 1 = lowest, 4 = highest; darker = more people. Sales Executive and other roles are cut off in the screenshot, so only seven roles are shown.

61.1%
of us feel good about our job (rating 3 or 4)

19.6%
feel the least satisfied (rating 1)

292
Research Scientists: the biggest group shown

What it all means

Agenda

1 in 6 has moved on

237 of 1,470 colleagues left (16.12%), while 1,233 are still with us.

Two teams feel it most

R&D and Sales account for about 95% of the goodbyes.

Science backgrounds lead

Life Sciences and Medical graduates are 64% of leavers.

Most are happy, not all

About 61% rate their job 3 or 4; nearly 20% give a 1.

What can we do next?

Agenda

1. Look at rates, not just counts
   Add headcount per department to see where people are truly most at risk.

2. Listen to the least satisfied
   Start conversations with Laboratory Technicians and Research Scientists.

3. Understand the age and gender patterns
   Ask why the mix of leavers differs across age bands.

4. Keep checking in
   Refresh the dashboard regularly to see if our actions are helping.